

LAKSHMI K. DEVADAS

Lakshmi K. Devadas is originally from Coimbatore, South India and currently lives in Granges-Paccot, Fribourg, Switzerland.

Lakshmi is a classical Bharathanatyam dancer who initially studied under the guidance of Guru Ganapathiappan in Coimbatore.

Besides performing and teaching this South Indian classical dance, Lakshmi also works with wood. Lakshmi enjoys expressing through various mediums, from traditional Indian themes to total abstractions. Lakshmi has attended courses at the art school in Zurich, Form & Farbe when she first came to Switzerland as a student. She also learnt this wood carving technique during her training with the Swiss artist Anreas Fritschi. One of her wood carvings is part of the permanent exhibition in the Kasthuri Srinivasan Art Gallery and Textile Museum, Coimbatore, India.

This is her first exhibition at Art Place 88.
