

VRONKA

«My paintings are my statement. Each work contains messages and meanings which the viewer is required to discover on his own.»

Veronica Isabel Liechti-Simons' (artistic name; Vronka) abstract paintings have been exhibited in Europe since 2002 in solo and group exhibitions.

She attended the School of Fine Arts in Bern, Switzerland where she studied drawing and oil painting for 3 years and Andrews University in the United States (Michigan) where she studied psychology and sociology.

Vronka was born in the United States and moved to Switzerland in 1981 where she now resides and has a studio in Köniz which is open to the public.
